Subject: The term "type-compatible" shouldn't be hyphenated
From: Van Snyder

The term "type-compatible" is used in Sections 5, 6, 7 and 12, and defined in the glossary. It is never used as an adjective, and should therefore not be hyphenated.

Edits refer to 02-007. Page and line numbers are displayed in the margin. Absent other instructions, a page and line number or line number range implies all of the indicated text is to be replaced by associated text, while a page and line number followed by + (-) indicates that associated text is to be inserted after (before) the indicated line. Remarks are noted in the margin, or appear between [and] in the text.
