Subject: Replace a sentence that has no content with one that actually explains something
From: Van Snyder

1 Introduction

The sentence "The ALLOCATABLE attribute may be specified for an object" at 82:24 has almost no information content. Replace it and the beginning of the next sentence as indicated below. The paragraph also mistakenly has "shape" where it should have "bounds."

Edits refer to 99-007r2. Page and line numbers are displayed in the margin. Absent other instructions, a page and line number or line number range implies all of the indicated text is to be replaced by immediately following text, while a page and line number followed by + indicates that immediately following text is to be inserted after the indicated line. Remarks for the editor are noted in the margin, or appear between [and] in the text.

If the ALLOCATABLE attribute is specified for an object it may be allocated by an AL- 82:24
LOCATE statement (6.4.1) or deallocated by a DEALLOCATE statement (6.4.3). If the AL-
LOCATABLE attribute is specified for an array it shall be a deferred-
